5B-1

A: I received a good deal of fresh fruit from my friend!

B: Wow, it looks delicious but it's a bit much

A: You're right but he owes me one for setting him up with my friend.

B: Fair enough. I hear they are getting married soon.

A: Did you get the "save the date" in the mail?

5B-2

A: Did you ask your sister to show up for your recital?

B: I didn't. She has a lot on her plate right now.

A: What's the harm in asking?

B: I don't want to make her feel bad for not coming.

5B-3

A: Look who's here! You're a sight for sore eyes.

B: Sorry, I've been cooped up for the past two weeks.

A: No worries, I know you are a lone wolf.

B: True, but I always make time to see you!

5B-4

A: I live a stone's throw from the station.

B: That must be nice. You know my place is obscenely far.

A: It is but I am really missing out on exercise.

B: If that is the case you can take my place.

A: No way! A 20 minute walk to the station is too much for me.

5B-5

A: My sister cries at the drop of a hat.

B: That's just because you are savage.

A: Nuh-uh. She is just an immature cry baby.

B: You should walk a mile in her shoes. Then you'd see differently.

5B-6

A: My parents got me this nice drip for my birthday.

B: Wow you must be tickled pink.

A: You betcha. It was inspired by my fav influencer.

B: Who might that be?

5B-7

A: I wouldn't be caught dead wearing that ugly shirt.

B: Welp, good thing it is not your shirt.

A: True. Sorry for being a little too blunt.

A: Ehh, don't worry about it. I'm used to your antics.

5B-8

A: Do you ever feel nostalgic about highschool?

B: Of course, doesn't everyone have the time of their life in high school?

A: On the contrary, my high school experience was rather mundane.

B: Why do you say that? Did you go to prom?

5B-9

A: How much does a polar bear weigh?

B: I'm not sure. I've never weighed a polar bear.

A: Enough to break the ice!

B: ha. ha. Please stop with the dad jokes.

5B-10

A: This whole prom dress fiasco needs to end.

B: No way, she stole my dress and I am gonna make her pay for it.

A: This sounds like a storm in a teacup if you ask me.

B: Well nobody asked you, so stop butting in.

5B-11

A: When you think of summer what springs to mind?

B: I think of the corn I would eat at fair grounds near my home town.

A: Wow, that really brings me back.

B: I get nostalgic everytime I smell grilled corn on a hot summer day.

5B-12

A: Teach me something that has no direct translation in English.

B: Have you heard the word “shouganai”?

A: No, but I am intrigued. What does it mean?

B: It roughly means, “it is what it is”.

5B-13

A: I just started this project and I’m already lost.

B: It looks like they have already thrown you in at the deep end.

A: Could you lend me a helping hand? I could really use one.

B: I want to but I don’t have a clue.

A: That makes me feel a little better, at least I’m not the only one.

5B-14

A: How is your startup trucking along?

B: Great! Product development has gone off without a hitch.

A: Have you received any investment offers?

B: We've been trying for months to seal the deal on a first offer.

A: I have some connections. Hit me up later when you have the chance.

5B-15

A: The rainy season has passed and a heatwave has taken its place.

B: I almost passed out from heat exhaustion in my own house.

A: What was your A/C at?

B: It was at 20 degrees but I have terrible insulation.

A: You should invest in a stronger A/C unit.

5B-16

A: What happened yesterday? You booked it right after dinner.

B: Sorry, my stomach pains went from zero to a hundred real quick.

A: How are you feeling now? Any better?

B: Don't worry about me. I'm on the mend

5B-17

A: I had some double pane windows installed.

B: I hear those are great in terms of energy efficiency.

A: I can tell you now that they are a tad bit overrated.

B: I'm not surprised. The ads look too good to be true.

5B-18

A: You mentioned that you got your second dose. How'd that go?

B: It went smoother than I expected. I didn't experience any side effects.

A: It's reassuring to hear that you had no trouble.

B: Don't worry about it too much. Just take things as they come.

5B-19

A: My son won't let up about these shoes.

B: Isn't his birthday soon? Why don't you just give in?

A: Trust me as soon as he gets them he will look for the next thing.

A: Why don't you have him grind for it?

B: That's not a bad idea. If he really wants them he will work for them.

5B-20

A: How are you faring at your new job?

B: I often get lost when they start talking about specs.

A: That makes sense. Specs include a lot of jargon.

B: Yeah. I definitely need to brush up on spec language.

5B-21

A: I am tired of staring at the same four walls.

B: Me too! I have wanderlust. I'm counting down the days till I can travel.

A: Until then it is good to count your blessings.

B: I agree. It would be better if I focused on the little things.

A: That's the spirit!

5B-22

A: The stock prices have been falling so I sold everything.

B: I wish I could do the same but I have diamond hands.

A: I regret it now. I think the stocks will rebound.

B: If that is the case then I will be in a great position.

5B-23

A: They say self assured people always look you in the eye.

B: I wouldn't know. I'm a wallflower.

A: I know you avert eye contact like it's your job.

B: True. I really need to work on that.

5B-24

A: My sister always talks me into paying for her.

B: You shouldn't let her walk all over you.

A: I know I am a natural pushover.

B: You should learn to stand your ground.

5B-25

A: My legs were in pain so I took a bath to soothe them.

B: What caused all that pain?

A: I walked my bike up a steep incline.

B: You must've been dripping in sweat.

A: True. I mistakenly thought it would be easy peasy.

5B-26

A: I recently watched a documentary about sunken battleships.

B: Why would they bother looking into that?

A: Apparently they make good homes for fish and encourage divers.

B: Fair enough. I thought they just looked cool.

A: I know right? Who would've thought they have so much appeal.

5B-27

A: I am out of shape. I wanna get fit again. Could you help me out?

B: Sure this is what I do for a living. What is your ideal build?

A: I'd like to get toned but I don't want to look bulky.

B: That should be easy with your small frame.

5B-28

A: This alley looks a little sus. Can we go another way?

B: Don't worry it might look a little sketchy but it is safe.

A: To be honest this alley looks like it's straight out of a horror film.

B: I'll go. If you wanna be a chicken that's fine you can wait for me.

5B-29

A: Where did your sister wander off to?

B: She is off walking the dog.

A: Tell her to come back now or there will be hell to pay.

B: I'm interested to see what she has in store.

5B-30

A: I heard that you bailed yesterday because you felt under the weather.

B: That is true, but I think I am on the mend now.

A: I'm sure you'll bounce back soon.

B: Me too. Thanks for your concern.

5B-31

A: How did your surgery go?

B: I was nervous to go under the knife but now I feel on top of the world.

B: That's a relief I thought you would be out for much longer.

A: Luckily it went smoothly so I was able to get back on my feet fast.

5B-32

A: Are you okay? You look as pale as a ghost.

B: I'm as sick as a dog.

A: You should tell the manager and take the day off.

A: I would but I can't afford it, I'm already on thin ice.
